For everything there is a season, and a time for every matter under heaven:

A time to be born, and a time to die;

A time to plant, and a time to pluck up what is planted;

A time to kill, and a time to heal;

A time to break down, and a time to build up;

A time to weep, and a time to laugh;

A time to mourn, and a time to dance;

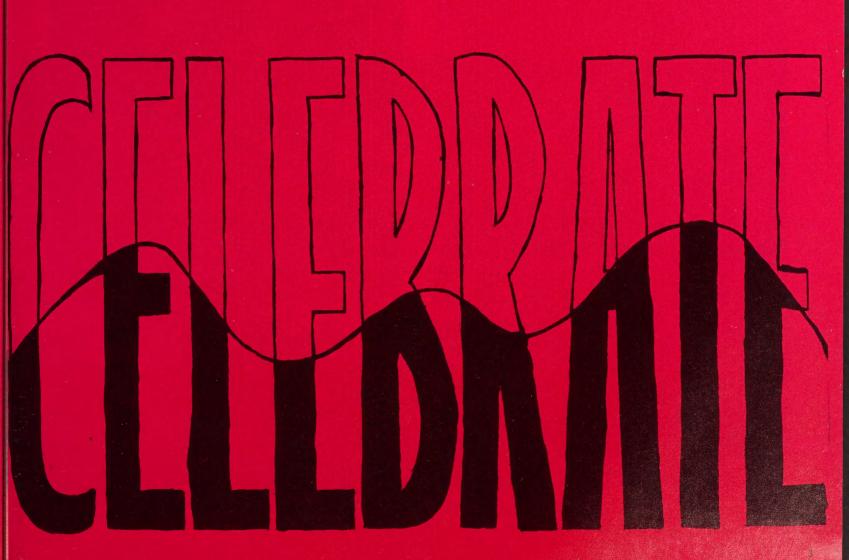

1973-74 is the time to review the past:

A time to note that Louisville and Jefferson County retire the old, are building the new;

A beautiful River City Mall welcomed visitors to the 100th Run for the Roses;

ARROW 1974 marks seventeen years of Seneca service to youth and education;

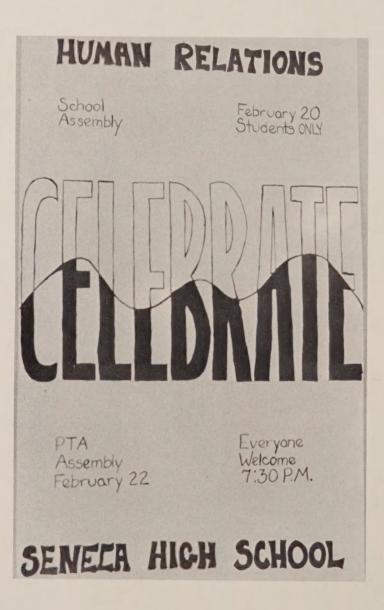

Loyal Redskins everywhere, it is time to Celebrate I

CELEBRATE, the theme of ARROW '74, originated in an assembly to promote brotherhood conducted by the Human Relations Committee. Mr. George Unseld, faculty sponsor of this group, aids in correlating the ideas and activities of the interested members who represent the various economic, ethnic, and cultural segments of the Seneca student body. Many Redskins felt the assembly was the best they had attended.

We of the ARROW staff have chosen to continue the efforts of the Human Relations Committee by emphasizing some changes and improvements that reveal outstanding achievements in both our school and community.

We'ze just as good as you's is.

The fans were dancing in the aisles:

Daddy Dee read an inspirational poem, Let America Be America Again.

Reverend Bob Russell encouraged all of us to walk that extra mile with our fellow men, to be friendly and helpful at all times under all conditions.

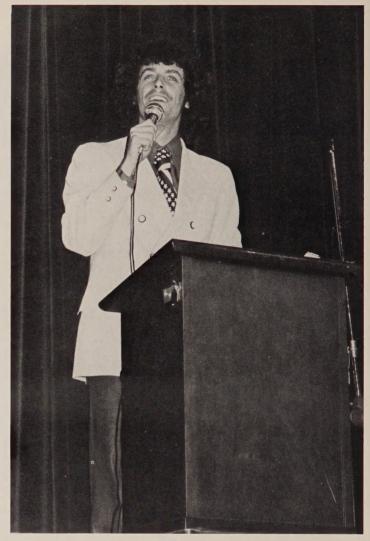

This picture tells its own story . . . Let's join together. Now!

She-Male Contest

The 1973 SHE-MALE CONTEST was a big success, thanks to the many people who worked hard to make it turn out that way. The Master-of-Ceremonies for the evening was Tom Prestigiacomo and the three judges were Howard Stevens, Mrs. Ann Hardin, and Scott Marcus.

All of the guys that participated in the contest were great, but the judges could only select ONE winner. He (she) was Jesse Hagen. Makes one wonder what will happen if all the guys start looking like this. In these days of "Women's Lib," it would be only fair to give the most talented gals a chance if they ask for equal time to demonstrate their abilities to entertain us from the other side of the footlights. Would their own show be called something like a He-Female Contest?

Our favorite M.C., Tom Prestigiacomo.

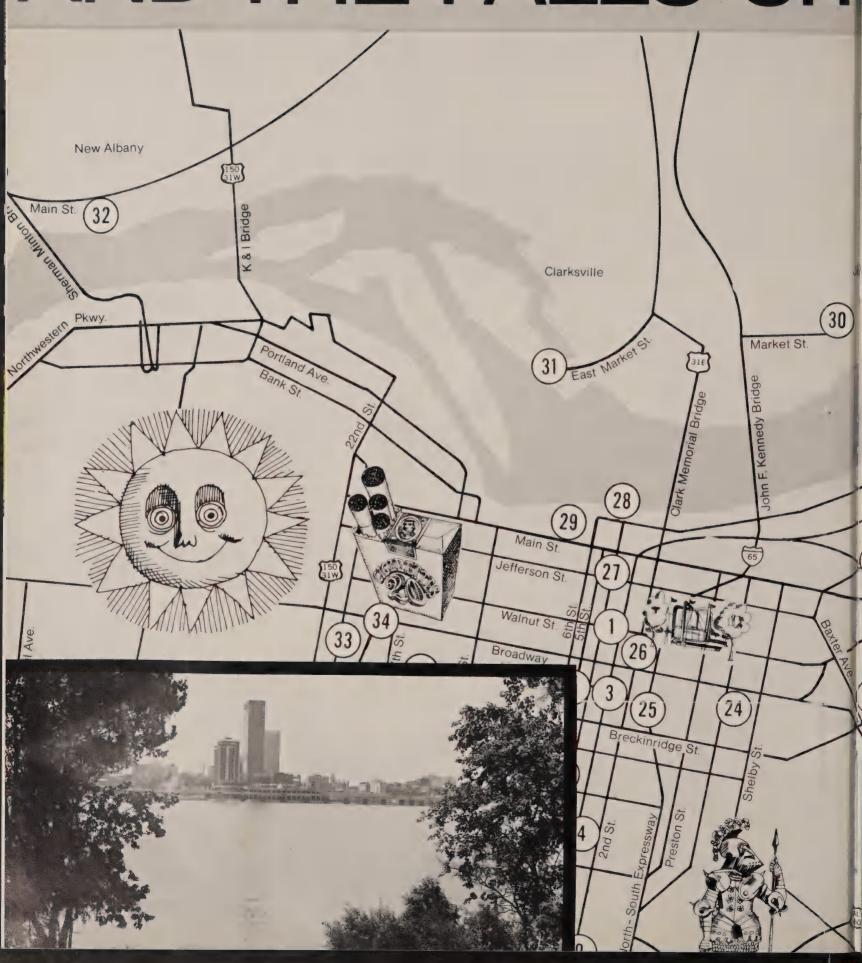

The Winner — Jesse Hagen

Language Assembly

Can you say "hello" in French, Spanish, German, and Latin? If you recall, the Master of Ceremonies in Celebrate I dashed on stage and did just that. We were astounded!

Students in our language department present a yearly assembly to encourage others to experience the pleasures of understanding and communicating in a second language.

These skits have often been the motivating influence that guided the audience in selecting language as an elective subject.

Jefferson County Drill Corps Compete

The annual Jefferson County Drill Corps Competition was held at Seneca High School for the first time in May 1973. Each school in the county was well represented by an attractive group of young ladies.

Awards were given for marching, variety in routines, as well as appearance. For the second time our Seneca Corps' uniforms were selected the most outstanding. The Western Westettes won the competition by compiling the highest overall rating.

Careers Day 1973

The Seneca counselors earn and deserve the praise of the Sophomore class members each spring. Representatives of many trades and professions visit the school, talk with the students, answering questions pertaining to job opportunities following high school graduation. Such meetings can direct a student's future. Forethought is usually a predecessor to success. This type of planning leads to something worthwhile celebrating.

Carol Tucker and Sandy Tippett enjoyed the refreshments following the induction.

"Well, Frank, where do we go from here" queries Mr. Lawson.

National Honor Society

Being inducted into the National Honor Society is one of the ultimate joys of the academically oriented student. The tapping indicates he has done well in his studies, contributed to the school's good reputation for aiding the community, upheld high standards culturally, and giving an all-round spirited performance.

Parents are invited to join in the celebration with the Redskins who earn this accolade. The induction is one of the most important and interesting assemblies held for Juniors and Seniors.

Patty Durbin congratulates new members, Carol Tucker, Debbie Witherington, Amy Spaulding.

The new inductees into the National Honor Society 1973-74.

Celebrate II

In May, Seneca's Human Relations group high-lighted the value of communication through music by presenting three rock bands that brought together and entertained all segments of our educational community. Teachers and students gathered to clap hands and sing along to the vibrating beat of many drums, organs, and multi guitars. Singers accented the lyrics, delighting the listeners with their amplified voices carried by lengths of microphone cords.

Once again we were reminded that the theme for the present and future is joy. What better idea could ARROW 1974 find to emphasize than the word CELEBRATE?

Mr. SOUND. Without me you're nothing!

FUNNY GIRL!

Fascinating, exciting, captivating, and thrilling — that was FUNNY GIRL. The Senior Class of '73, and director Eugene Stickler, proudly presented this Broadway Musical on November 17, 18, and 22. The life of Fanny Brice was vividly portrayed by Karen Weinstein while Steve John played the role of Nick Arnstein. These two, along with many other Seniors, created Funny Girl.

Acting, singing, and dancing were a few elements involved in the production. There was an ecstatic air filled with laughter and strong emotions. After the final curtain there was crying, yet from then on, fond memories of Funny Girl would always exist.

Senior Awards

Everyone knew they would enjoy the excellent banquet prepared for them by the lunchroom ladies. The seniors knew they would enjoy listening to Lenny Lyles talk to them about his interesting life in big time sports. But no one knew who would be tapped for the many honors associated with this Big Night.

The exciting program took place in the old gym, after the banquet adjourned. Few classes have a member like Joe Yates who received a Merit Scholarship. Marla Ridenour and Charlie Walls were standouts in the sixty-three names called to come forward for recognition.

Michael Dant received the medal for Americanism given by Highland Post 201 American Legion.

Teamwork

Boys' Track

The boys' track team worked hard again this season for another successful year. With a final win-loss record of 4-2, the boys gave tough competition to all they met.

Under the outstanding direction of coach Mike Simpson, the team showed dedication to their running.

Superb individual talent was apparent from senior Rick Akam, who close a 1:56 time in the 880 yard run. He went on to place fourth in the state in the 880.

The J.V. team slated • 0-3 record, but their desire and dedication to the sport should show in the future.

The 1973 girls' track season that got off to a running start. The team was young, consisting mainly of freshmen and sophomores who will provide the backbone for the teams of the future. Under the supervision of Coach Charles McAdams the girls were able to place 4th in the region.

Melinda Warren competed in the long jump in the Kentucky state meet; Janet Hodge who threw the discus represented Seneca in the Jefferson County meet. Considering the team's youth and inexperience as big factors that influence results, the girls AND the school found the season most rewarding. Keep running!

Golf Action In Full Swing

The 1973 Redskin golf team enjoyed another successful season this past spring. The members of the team showed their proficiency at the game in carving out a respectable 5-4 win-loss record. Unlike other sports which have specialized positions coordinated in a team effort, golf requires that every man perform each of the tasks therein. He must drive, chip, putt, and aim all his shots well. Golf is an exacting and mentally demanding game that requires a special type of competition. Coach Porter feels he has such competitors in the persons of Kenny Hickman, Ralph Reasor, Steve Frank, Freddy Bleicher, and Chris Brown.

With only Hickman lost because of graduation, the '74 season is sure to be filled with success for the Seneca linksmen. Good luck to Coach Porter!

Varsity Baseball

The 1973 Redskin Varsity Baseball team experienced another season of excitement and success.

After finishing regular season play with another unimpressive 7-9 won-lost record, Coach Jackson's charges moved into district play where they were to meet two heavily favored opponents.

First, the Seneca nine disposed of Trinity by a 4-3 verdict.

On the following day, a sparkling 5-run rally brought the Redskins from a 7-3 deficit to an 8-7 victory over Atherton. The 26th district trophy came to Seneca for the second year in a row.

After advancing to the semi-finals in the regional tournament, with a 4-2 victory over Valley, the Redskins' hope for a State Tournament berth ended with a 10-3 defeat by St. X.

Varsity-J.V. Action

Under the able direction of Coach Fox, the Junior Varsity Baseball team had another year of success. The freshman and sophomore players earned a respectable 5-3 won-lost record in a rain-shortened season.

It is during junior varsity play that underclassmen gain the knowledge and experience that produce varsity wins in the future years. From the looks of the '73 team there is a bright future ahead for the Redskins. Good luck to Mr. Fox.

Mike Shields delivers a high, hard one.

Girls' Tennis

Having improved greatly, the girls' tennis team netted quite a season this past year with a 6-7 record.

The girls began practice early in March under the leadership of Miss Pat Richardson, Capt. Linda Stephens, and Co-Capt. Elaine Kremer. They finished off the season with an annual regional tournament directed by Miss Richardson. Seneca was represented in the singles by Linda Stephens and teammate Bonny Baron. The doubles team consisted of Elaine Kremer and Kathy Gatton. Good Luck in the Spring of '74!

EVALUATION 1973-74

In September 1973 Mr. William Craigmyle assumed the responsibility of guiding Seneca High School through its second self-evaluation for accreditation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. The qualifications of all staff members, the curriculum offered, and the facilities available to the students of the Seneca district were closely examined and evaluated.

Each teacher became a member of two special committees pictured in ARROW '74 in lieu of the usual faculty portraits. Each committee of at least eight persons contained one student and a parent who contributed viewpoints of the people most concerned with our school community.

Faculty reports and a summation of all facts, statistics, and comments by the Steering Committee finalized the self-evaluation. We believe Seneca will retain its top rating as its record indicates.

Reunion 1963-1973

They had come from many places. The Haynes now live in Washington where Greg is one of ten young lawyers on the White House staff. Diana Sawyer was unable to attend, but she, too, lives in Wash. D.C., where she is an assistant to the President's Press Secretary.

In addition to lawyers, the class boasts doctors, teachers, and businessmen of all kinds. This reunion marked a gathering together of the first students who attended Seneca from 7th through the 12th grade. Lonesome salutes his first "six-year stu-

Lonesome's Diary Reviews The Class Of 1974

DEAR DIARY:

One day early last May, a group of exuberant, enthusiastic 6th graders got a glimpse of their future. They were surprised and lost in the huge halls of Seneca High School. But, that group of bewildered youngsters did not stay that way long. They got into the swing of high school life quickly and soon showed methat they were not a group that sit on their hands.

The Junior High Student Council had three very able leaders: Steve Vice, Cliff Radin, and Pam Borah: The Junior High Student Council got moving right away by going to the State Convention, and at Christmas time had a basket drive and a door decoration contest. They also had a Spring dance.

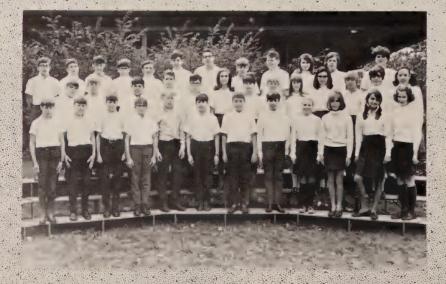

This class also proved their musical talent by participating in the Junior High band and choruses. The choruses attended the Jefferson County Music Festival.

Their Gray-Y teams built for the future.

The Kentucky Youth Assembly and the Red Cross were also blessed with 7th graders who were willing to work and help others,

DEAR DIARY

I knew there was no way for these youngsters to go wrong, because as they grew, their activities grew, and they really learned what Redskinspirit was.

The Executive Board of the Jumor High Student Council had capable leaders in Pam Borah, Sheldon Wishnis, and Kelly Thompson. The Student Council sponsared a Valentine's Day Dance, gave Thanksgiving baskets, trimmed a tree, and went Christmas caroling at Heritage House. To open the door between students and administration, the Junior High Student Council set up a suggestion committee.

The Kentucky Youth Assembly staxed in Frankfort for the State Convention and elected Steve Vice as Lt. Governor

The Hi-Y Flag Football team wan their league and received another trophy for my trophy case!

Musically, the 8th grade orchestra played in the school's largest production; the Senior Play; HELLO; DOLLY!

There was no holding down the creativity of these youngsters. The Junior High added a newspaper of their own. The name was the PAPOOSE.

DEAR DIARY

In the past, I have noted that the change from Junior to . Senior High School has been a confusing one. This was not the case this year because the class of 1974 proved that they truly are different.

Jackie Harris adorned the Juntor Classical League's calendar; the freshman football, basketball, and baseball teams built for the future; and three freshmen became Junior Varsity Cheerleaders. Brant Stevens became a member of the varsity football team as a freshman.

Many priganizations, such as the Beta Club, Math Team, Drill Corps, Choruses, ARROW, SENTINEL, and AURORA Staffs, "S" Club, fencing and swimming feams inducted members of the Class of 1974.

The football homecoming princess was Laura Derhling, and the basketball princess was Karen Carr. Christa Higdon graced the JCL calendar, and the Junior Varsity Cheerleaders were led by Karen Carr, Janice Brown, Ronda-Fleck, and Jackie Harris.

DEAR DIARY

This is the fifth year that I have written about the class of 1974 and they improve with every ledge and bound right to the front in the Redskin spotlight! They are quickly becoming the elite of Seneca High School. The Drill Corps matched at Eastern and Western Kentucky Universities; the annual Louisville Christmas Parade, and some Kentucky Colonel basketball home games. The Girl's Gymnastics Team was the runner-up in the J.C.A.C. contest, led by Judy Steinlage Jackie Harris was crowned basketball homecoming queen and the Junior Class sponsored the Junior Class Talent Show, as well as selling jerseys to class members.

On May 4, 1973, the National Hanar Society inducted 33 members of the Junior Class

On May 2, 1973, these juniors aged one year in one day, as this was the day they received their Seneca Sentor Rings. Seneca was then ready to meet its leaders, the Class of 1974.

A great Drill Corps.

Ring Assembly

The Junior Class abstrously assembled on May 21, 1973, for the Junior Ring Assembly. The ceremony preceding the ning presentation included music by Serieca's Chorale; speeches given by administrators, faculty, class officers; and guest speakers who presented four juniors with awards. The excitement climaxed as the men from Baltour handed out the rings.

"Fiddler" jayfully brought us together

The sun was now rising on the most important year we would have at Seneca. We had made iff Finally, after six long years of toll and work, we were now the oldest and most bonored class at Seneca. Lonesome welcomed us into his teepee. But it had not been without work that we had achieved this most honored position. With two years experience behind him, the President of aur class. Tom Grieb, quickly statted with our Senior activity planning. He was assisted by the President of the Student Council, Peter Russell. Other tribal leaders were: Editor-in-Chief of ARROW 1974, Marc. Russman; Editor-in-Chief of AURORA 1974, Karin Redding; President of the National Honor Society, Louie Stapleton; and President of the Beta Club, Doug Merilatt.

Even before we were settled into our daily routines, the "Big Red Machine" was already rolling. Our football team won the District Four Championship and our season record was 9-2, which included seven straight shut-outs. There were 19 Seniors on the team and six of them became members of the All-State Football Team. David Seewer, Brant Stevens, David Meehran, Cary Lawhon, Charlie Waldce, and Steve Dix. Spirit accelerated as our team rolled toward hamecoming! Lynn Armstrong was crawned Homecoming Queen, and three other Senior girls graced her court: Diane Drescher, Tilda Watkins, and Paula Johnson.

Soon again, it was time for the Junior Classical League's Calendar Cantest in which some of the most beautiful girls at Seneca competed. Ann Knight, Cover Girl, along with seven other Senior girls adorned our 1974 calendar beautifully. These girls included karen Carr, Kanda Coleman, Yolanda Hayden, Cindy James, Danna Wells, Patti Skaggs, and Kathy Howard.

Even at the time of football homecoming, our Senior play. "Pid-dler on the Roof," was well into production. Our patron ad sales passed all former achievements at $2188.00. The first period drama class worked hard toward this goal under the supervision of Mr. Stickler and the patron ad chairwomen Marta Drutz and Karen York. "Fiddler on the Roof" starred Mark Lykins as Tevye, a Russian milkman, and Karin Redding, as Golde, his wife. Long and tiring hours of rehearsal taught us perfection and the performances were not to be matched throughout the county.

We had not even cought our breaths from "Flddler" when we were through not basketball season. Although our basketball season was maderate, spirit was at a high plateau. Six Seniars played of the team, Som Baswell, Billy Campbell, Bruce Mays, Cary Lawhon, Mike Shields, and Brant Stevers.

Seniors can always pull their weight

Because of the quarter system, all Seniars did not graduate at the same time, but the formal ceremony was attended by many. Our last full day was May 21 and Awards Day was May 22. Our prom took place a Holiday time and featured Tommy Walker. As graduation time green pearer and nearer, some of us became melanchally and we did not wan to leave Seneca forever. We would always be Redskins and we would never forget it. May 29 came way too soon, and we said a tearful good bye to the underclassmen, who soon would take our place as the leader at Seneca High School.

The sun was now setting on our life of Seneca, but do you see a sind flicker of light from a new rising soh?

Toyful tears ran down the face of a happy Lynn Armstrong,

Mr. Seneca — Tom Grieb

Miss Seneca — Diane Drescher

"So you prefer rases to MY pizza!"

Come on, Tom - It can't be IHAT bad!

The Class of '74 owes a lot to the person who has been its leader since 1971; As president, Tom Grieb has led his class through a successful Junior Class Talent Show, Basketball Homecoming '73, and many other projects undertaken by it.

If you have walked into the Seneca Bookstore in the past three years, you have probably seen Tom there — hard at work, as usual. Believe it or not, he still makes time for other activities. He was an active member of the Student Council for three years. He has also been in the Beta Club for three years, serving as Vice-President in his junior year; and he served as Vice-President of the National Honor Society in his senior year. Tom played one of the lead roles in the Senior Play also. Through the years, he has been a member of the Good News Club, the Junior Classical League, and the Library Club.

In spite of these activities, Tom still finds time to be active in his church and also to coach faotball and basketball at the YMCA. The senior girls were lucky in Powderpuff Football to have such a qualified person to coach them on fo victory over all the underclassmen.

Looking to the future, Tom plans to study to be a minister. Congratulations and Good Luck to "Mr. Senecg," Tom Grieb!

"There will be a Senior Class Executive Board meeting tonight at Diane Dreschet's house." We have heard Tom Grieb make this announcement many times. As leaders of the Class of '74, these two people have been active members of their class Executive Board for the past four years. Tom was elected class Vice-President in his freshman year, and since has led the class as a very capable President for three years. Diane has made a great contribution to her class by serving as Senior Class Historian.

The name and face of Diane Drescher have been familiar to Redskins since 1968, when she entered Seneca as a frightened 7th grader. As a member of the Pep Club, she has lent her enthusiastic support to the athletic department, and kept statistics for the football team during her senior year. Also as a senior, she graced the Football Homecoming Court.

Diane has proven to be quite an asset to the Class of '74. She worked hard at many of her class functions; for example, she was a Hot Box. Girl at the Junior Class Talent Show, and was one of the junior girls asked to usher at the graduation of the Class of '73.

Diane is kept busy outside of school with her activities at church and with her scrority, but she has still had time to participate in the FTA, Spanish Club, Beta Club, and the Senior Play. As for the future, Diane plans to enter nursing school next year. Best of Luck to "Miss Seneca," Diane Dreschert

Ann Knight — Cover Girl Girl's Chorus

THE 1973-'74 JCL CALENDAR

Sunrise-sunset. Sunrise-sunset. We go through everyday life in trance. Unaware of the outside world we live in a world of our own. Hour by hour, day by day, week by week. Then suddenly out of the ordinary comes something to break the monotony. This was well exemplified the day of the JCL Calendar Girl contest. Instead of going to school, changing classes, and going home, one became aware of what happens on the "other side of the fence."

Mr. Stickler and Mr. Brown's students found their classrooms different as they became dressing rooms of the reigning beauties who had been picked by various groups and organizations around the school.

The Master of Ceremonies was Peter Russell, and as the numbers were called each girl gracefully walked down the runway. The contestants were judged on beauty and poise. The twelve girls chosen for each month and the cover girl were perfect examples of the beauty displayed by the pageant.

Seneca's "82 Legs" sponsored a "Little Miss Drill Corps" contest. This event was held on October 16 in Seneca's auditorium. It was the first contest of it's kind in the Jefferson County area. Each of the 41 members of the Drill Corps entered one girl into the contest. Each girl wore a ribbon displaying the name of her company sponsor, and five young boys escorted the girls on stage.

Finally the exciting moment came when "Little Miss Drill Corps '74" was announced; she is Aricka Cole, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Cole. First runner-up was Courtney Lange.

Homecoming 1973

Struttin' with my baby!!

Bringing Back The 50's

Remember the jitterbug, long skirts, bobby socks and going to the hop? Those ancient days were revived as the 1973 Homecoming theme.

On the day of Homecoming Seneca took on a whole new appearance as students and teachers dressed in the fashions of the 50¹s. A pep rally with cheers and skits was held that morning with Miss Owens and Mr. Stickler having a little nostalgic fun as they did an "unrehearsed" dance to "Rock Around the Clock." Della Hardin and David Margulis were picked as the two best-dressed and won free tickets to the dance.

Homecoming may be over but the idea isn't, so get those long skirts and bobby socks out and "let the good times roll!"

They make a good couple!

Love those white socks!

The Juniors and the Seniors battle it out.

Powderpuff Football

It was the girls' turn to play football and the high-spirited girls in the Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes went all out to prove they were the best.

During the first games of play the Freshmen were able to powder the Sophomores off. The Freshmen were under the puff of Kurt Smialek, while the Sophomores were coached by Brian Davis. The fired-up Seniors were led to victory by Tom Grieb, while the Juniors were coached by Bruce Novicki. The Powderpuff football competition was a big success, and with the hope of getting back at each other there will be games in the near future.

The Senior girls say: "Fight dirty!"

The referees look defeated.

The spectators watch anxiously!

FOOTBALL HOMECOMING '73

It was the 50's brought back from the dead as the 1973 Football Homecoming rolled around. Halftime festivities increased the spirit of the crowd as the band played tunes from the 50's and the Drill Corps danced to the music of "Stuck on You." Tension mounted as the candidates for Homecoming Queen and Princess were escorted onto the field. They were paraded under the arch of sword blades, formed by the R.O.T.C. to their proper places.

Lynne Armstrong was crowned queen of the lovely court consisting of Diane Drescher, Paula Johnson, and Tilda Watkins. Lori Bass represented the underclassmen as Princess with Maureen Burns, Bridgett Cox, and Sally Krebs as members of her court.

The entire Seneca student body agreed that "Lean On Me" was second only to "Celebrate I" as assemblies are rated. Simple lines created by stark white draped ledges placed against a black background curtain, which in itself was a perfect foil for the brilliant lights that spelled out "Lean On Me," added sophistication to the scene. The suave M.C.'s added humor. The ever eager to please actors more than fulfilled their roles. The music was rhythmic and stimulating. Altogether "Lean On Me" was a memorable show.

The National Honor Society is the highest scholastic goal that can be achieved at Seneca High School. Eligible students must have an over-all average of 3.5, but scholastic ability is only a part of being a member. Each prospective member is evaluated by his teachers and is judged on his good leadership, character, and service qualities.

The NHS is not just an honor society but a service club as well. This year's activities included: a banquet for new members, tutoring students who needed help in a certain field, and various other service projects.

Beta Club . . .

With the help of Mrs. Blair and co-sponsor Mrs. Billinger, the Beta Club has had another successful year. In October, eighty-one students from the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes were taken into the club at a formal ceremony after which club members attended a reception.

The State Beta Club Convention was held at Convention Center in Louisville, the first week-end in December. Representatives from Beta Clubs all over the state attended the convention, including 14 members from Seneca.

This year our Beta Club sponsored a Christmas party; money raised from this project will be used as scholarships for outstanding Beta students.

National Merit Semi-Finalists

The time is approximately 8:30 a.m. on a Saturday morning in October. A group of sleepy juniors are assembled to take a test—the PSAT/NMSQT. Eleven months later 15,000 students are named as National Merit Semi-finalists.

This year Seneca had 5 students who achieved this honor: (From I. to r.): Becky Lawler, Joanie Combs, Danny Waddell, Patti Skaggs, and Myra Trask. These may become eligible for finalist status.

The Letter of Commendation is an honor bestowed upon students who placed just below the score required for National Merit Semi-finalists.

These students are considered to be National Merit Scholars by many colleges and obtain improved chances for entrance to the college of their choice.

Two Seneca seniors have been honored by the National Council of Teachers of English. Vickie Michelson and Jeff Lunger were 2 of 14 state winners. These students are regarded by NCTE as among the most able English students of the nation's 1974 graduating class.

Denise Logsdon — Ann Van Slyke

One snowy winter day, I just happened to be strollin' the halls of my very own Seneca High School, when I chanced to pass by the legendary room 218. As I was approaching that door where many a hectic editor has passed, I wondered what type of situation I would run into this time, (as something is always going on in the ARROW Staff room). I walked in, and not to my surprise, I saw close to 40 students crowded around . . . something, or was it someone? When I tapped one of them on the shoulder to ask what the problem was, they replied, "We've got to meet our deadline and everyone needs Mrs. Kraft's help!" I could see that now was not the time to stop and make conversation.

As I left the room, I stopped once to look back. Seeing everyone crowded around Mrs. Kraft got me thinking. For 16 years now, she has been there, always making sure that Seneca's yearbook proves to be the best.

Next year, Miss Pat Richardson will take over as sponsor. Mrs. Kraft has led the staff through thick and thin, and if anyone can say that . . . I sure can. Seneca has certainly benefited from her guidance and inspiration.

OH! I almost forgot to give you this message: "The 1973-74 Seneca High School ARROW Staff takes great pleasure in dedicating the '74 issue of our year-book to Mrs. Mildred Kraft for all of her hard work and devotion in the past 16 years."

The staff is composed of three main committees: format, art, and material. The purpose of format is to combine the artwork and the literary material. The art committee appeals to the various art classes to find short stories, poems, and essays that are suitable for the magazine.

Human Relations

Until recently, not many students at Seneca understood or knew what human relations was all about. Now, under the direction of Human Relations Coordinator Mr. George Unseld and his able-bodied staff, Seneca students have a better understanding of what this public service committee does. The staff generally serves as a liason between the students and the administration, and in student-student affairs.

Each year the Human Relations Committee puts on an entertaining and educational show for the school. The theme for this year's was "Lean On Me." Also, this year the committee planned a project entitled "Outdoor Student Lounge — OSL." This was a project designed to give students a place to go and relax and socialize with their friends during the school day.

The Human Relations Committee is truly unique and beneficial organization for the students and the administration of Seneca.

Drink hearty, Larry.

High Q

High Q is a game of instant recall. The game intends to show some of the scholastic ability of schools in the WAVE viewing area. Under the watchful eye of sponsor Gary Parker, our High Q team has shown leadership and devotion in working to keep Seneca's standards up to par.

Student Council

"Why doesn't anything ever go the way I want it to at Seneca?" This question, along with many others, is a frequent one posed by students at Seneca. Through our Student Council, students are given the opportunity to voice their opinions, whether they be good or bad. In this way, a link in the relationship between the students, faculty, and administration is established.

This year, the Student Council has served Seneca in many valuable ways. Along with sponsoring a fantastic Football Homecoming and annual Christmas basket drive, representatives also attended the state-wide Kentucky Association of Student Councils' Convention and summer Workshop. At the convention, over 1,000 students met in discussion groups and exchanged ideas on the problems pertinent to the Student Council, the schools, and the community.

Thanks to the Student Council's search for answers to problems, Seneca has benefited greatly. As long as problems exist, the Student Council will remain an organization of value to us all!

Spanish

The Spanish Club has gotten off to a hard working and successful year. A trip to Mexico at the end of the year could have something to do with the diligence of each person selling doughnuts and candles. These are just a few of their ways of making money; and with the help of their president, Debbie Zukof, and sponsors, Mrs. Miles and Miss Owens, they all plan to reach their goal.

French

The French Club did many exciting things this year, including a trip to PIGALLS, a French restaurant in Cincinnati, Ohio. It was an enriching experience for all.

The club also rented several French films and invited clubs from other schools to come and watch them.

The officers are: Mary Dillon, president; Evy Abell, vice-president; and Jennie Corbett, secretarytreasurer.

German

The German Club is designed to promote interest in the German Culture. During their monthly meetings the club members discuss general business and various fund-raising projects. This money will go toward scholarships for graduating students. Under the guidance of the seven officers the club clicks. The officers are: President, Betty Dant; Veep, Vickie Priest; Recording Secretary, Bev Koch; Treasurer, Jackie Boeschel; Cor. Secretary, Janet Meyer; Sgts.-at-Arms, Beth Lobred and Anita Mayer.

JCL

The JCL had an active year; they attended the annual state convention at the Ramada Inn, sponsored the calendar contest, had a Christmas party, and sold various items for funds. All these efforts were expended toward scholarships awarded to two senior members who have shown outstanding achievement in Latin.

Rifle Team

Ready . . . Aim . . . Target . . . FIRE!! Oh, and be sure never to get in the way of these sharp-shooters . . . for whether you know it or not, Seneca has one of the finest rifle teams ever! Under the able leadership of Sgt. Conrad, our Rifle Team will always be one of the best.

Rifle Club

The Seneca High School Rifle Club is composed of a group of people who, like the Rifle Team, develop their knowledge in a very important activity at Seneca. For adding a certain element to the atmosphere at Seneca, we proudly salute our Rifle Club.

Key Club

The Seneca Key Club is dedicated to promoting citizenship and improving human relations. They give up hours of free time to work in charity drives and are involved in public service throughout our community. The all-male club is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Louisville. The president is Brant "Waldo" Stevens, with faculty advisor, Mr. Riley.

Science Club

The Science Club this year is bing sponsored by Mr. Tutt. Officers are Steve Hinton, President; lent Davidson, Vice-President; Inthia Cooke, Secretary; and larce Schmitz, Treasurer. These iterested students meet every Friday after school. The club is in its scond year of existence, and sveral projects are planned for the ming year.

Club

Ever see a bunch of great looking guys walking through the hall? Yes, that's right! The Seneca High "S" Club is still going strong. Composed of Redskins who have earned the honor of being awarded a Varsity letter, our "S" Club will remain one of the marks of Lonesome's ever-present spirit.

Art Club

The Art Club is an organization by and for Seneca students, the primary interest of which is to attract students who are interested in art whether or not they have outstanding talents. They hope to make Seneca nicer by the work they do. The club has planned many activities for the year ahead such as field trips to the Speed Museum and Shakertown; they also plan to paint a Lonesome Polecat for the new gym and to improve the existing one over the front loading dock. This year's officers are: President, Cathy McGrew; Vice-President, Lorraine Cooper; Secretary, Kathy Brickling; and Treasurer, Ann Beck. Sponsored by Mrs. Hester, Mrs. Minrath and Mrs. Duffy, the Club is in its fourteenth year and still going strong!!!

Good News Club

Prayers, scripture meetings, and songs are all part of the Good News Club. Accompanied by Mr. Jackson, the club meets every morning before school. They are presently sponsoring a girl in Brazil, and are planning to sing at a nursing home. These activities are available for anyone who wants to participate.

Fencing

The fencing team began a great season this year by defeating Doss 4-0 in the girls' division and 3-2 in the boys' division. Under the leadership of Georges Coeur, their instructor, Judy Smith and Bob Spero as co-captains, and Sonya Jourdan as assistant captain, the '74 fencing team can't lose.

The team is supported by Mrs. Budde, the sponsor. Lessons are opened for beginners, intermediates, and advanced fencers. Next year, Sabre and Epee will be offered.

As one walks through the Seneca cafeteria, he can't help but notice all the posters and signs boosting the football and basketball players' spirit, while generating enthusiasm throughout the school. Once a week there is a meeting, sponsored by Mr. Reed. The Presidents: Patty Gough, Sandy Carpenter and Gene Pettway, encourage support from all the boosters in cheering our teams along.

With brush in hand and paint from can — the Redskins' loyalty once again shone through as the Pep Club helped keep the spirit up! Many thanks to this group of people.

With this cheer and many others, our cheerleading squads have been the backbone of Seneca's school spirit. Whether for football or basketball, these energetic teams of girls are always there to lead the fans in cheering the Redskins on to victory, or to stand behind them all the way in defeat. Their overwhelming spirit has been a source of pride for our teams.

Under the supervision of sponsors, Mrs. Nancy Stinnett, Mrs. Billie Moberly, and Mrs. Sullivan, our '73-'74 cheers reflect the spirit of Lonesome and help keep it alive. To you, we owe our thanks!

As the season marched on, the "82 Legs" kept right in step as they performed for the Kentucky Colonels, Eastern and Western Kentucky Universities, U of L, and most of Seneca's home football and basketball games. They participated in the Louisville Christmas Parade, and were the only Jefferson County Drill Corps in the Frankfort Christmas Parade. The real test came when the girls drilled in the Jefferson County Competition in February.

One of their special projects was sponsoring the first annual "Little Miss Drill Corps Pageant" which aroused interest throughout this area. This exciting event was won by Little Miss Erika Cole.

Sincere thanks to Captain Rosie Wernert and Sponsor Miss Pat Richardson for leading the "82 Legs" to another outstanding year!

Choruses

Seneca's choral department is made up of students interested in learning different types of music such as secular, sacred, and Broadway musicals. Both the Mixed and Girl's Choruses are first year music students. Bel Canto and Chorale consist of those who have previously taken chorus or have had a special audition.

All choruses give two concerts annually, one at Christmas and the other in the Spring. The Chorale gave a concert during Christmas at Oxmoor, while the Bel Canto performed at the Bashford Manor Mall.

Redskin Football Roundup 1973

Captains and coaches pose with this year's trophies.

The stingy Redskin defense holds the opponents scoreless . . .

. while the potent offensive unit provides the winning points.

COACH SUNDBERG — The big chief

The Honored

Anticipation filled the autumn air as the 1973 Seneca football squad prepared to take the field. Players and fans dreamed of a rags-to-riches turnaround from a disappointing '72 season to a shot at the state title.

After dropping the season opener to Atherton, the Redskins reeled off nine consecutive victories and shut out seven opponents in a row. At one point, the tough Big Red defense failed to allow an enemy score for 29 straight quarters!

A perfect 4-0 record in District Four play earned the Redskins a trip to Fairgrounds Stadium and the County Playoffs. Here Coach Dan Sundberg's charges fell to a spirited Southern club by a 12-0 margin. The Redskins' performance exhibited the kind of pride and courage characteristic of a Seneca team. They had compiled a 9-2 overall record and allowed their opponents just 50 points all season. Congratulations and good luck to the Varsity football team.

Cross Country

The 1973 Cross Country team under the superior coaching of Coach Simpson compiled a 2-4 record this year. The team consisted of mostly sophomores and juniors. The team is expected to be even stronger in 1974 due to advancing to seniorhood during this season. The team placed fourth in the county out of eighteen teams. However, they came in seventh in the region with pretty rough competition from Westport and Trinity.

The team did reasonably well in the Trinity Invitational, placing fifth out of twenty-one teams. They also did well in the Thomas Jefferson Invitational where they came in sixth out of twenty-eight teams.

If inspiration and support can build, the team should be promising for the '74 season.

Coach Simpson gives some words of advice.

The Redskin Roundball Review

The 1973-74 Redskin Basketball Team

Success consists of: A tight defense . . .

. . . A working offense . . .

The team effort

Sam Boswell goes high for a tip-in.

1973-74

The Redskin basketball squad experienced a year of rebuilding and rejuvenation in the winter of 1973-74.

Graduation cost the team four of five starters and seven men altogether from the '72-73 team. With only four returning lettermen, the Redskin roundballers still provided their fans with lively action and their opponents with spirited competition. Even though the season did not bring great success to Lonesome's charges, each man on the team can be credited with exhibiting the effort and pride typical of a Seneca ball club.

Under the qualified leadership of head coach Tony Carman and assistant coaches Charles Moore, Rick Bolus, and Mike Hash, this up and coming young team is sure to make each future season a success.

Girls' B-Ball

The 1974 Girls' Basketball Team, under the outstanding coaching of Miss Sue Owens, compiled a 9-7 record this year. At the conclusion of the regular season, the team was ranked fifth in the county due to superb playing throughout the season.

Outstanding players included high scorer Evy Abell and top rebounder Melinda Warren. Miss Warren also tied with Kim Young as second highest point totaler.

Each year as girl's basketball grows in popularity, competition in their league gets tougher. But the mighty Redskins look to next year a for a possible championship.

Cameron pulls down a rebound.

JV, Freshman, Jr. High Basketball

The sub-varsity basketball program gives younger players the opportunity to see action while learning the fundamentals of the game. Junior Varsity, Freshman, and Jr. High teams often develop into successful, winning varsity squads.

The JV team prospered this year under the direction of Coach Moore. The team had a winning season as well as many fine individual standouts.

Guided by Coach Bolus, the Freshman squad also had a successful year. The team lost only one game the entire season, a respectable showing by any standards.

The Jr. High basketball team is coached by Mr. Hash. This dedicated group of seventh and eighth graders holds the key to future Redskin success on the basketball court.

Coach Moore plans the strategy.

Wrestling 1974

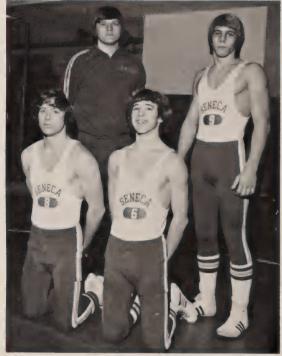

The Seneca Wrestling Team, under the superior coaching of Mr. Orville Williams, compiled a 5-5 record this year. Considering the loss of five of last year's starters, the team was impressive throughout the season.

In the region, Danny Mason was chosen "Most Outstanding Wrestler," while he and the three others: Greg Miles, Lee Wilson, and David George, qualified for state competition.

The outlook for next year is very good with only three starters graduating this year.

Swim Team

The swim team, under the supervision of Coaches Harbison and Sizemore, got their feet wet with a courageous start. The girls were the team's main attack, but the boys soon followed with a triumph in the Westport Relays.

Swimming is a team sport. Seneca's swimmers even worked together to buy new warmup suits so they could compete in style. The team practiced twice a week at the University of Louisville. The majority of the team's members were 7th and 8th graders who have future years to swim for Seneca.
